WEBINAR

📅 18th July 2026

🕒 18:30 PM - 21:30 PM

Dr. Shuchita Pathak

Programme Director Assistant Professor, Medical Oncology DMCH Medical College, Ludhiana

Dr. Shuchita Pathak is an accomplished Consultant Medical Oncologist and Hemato-Oncologist with nearly a decade of dedicated experience in comprehensive cancer care. Currently serving as an Assistant Professor of Medical Oncology at Dayanand Medical College and Hospital (DMCH), Ludhiana. Her clinical journey includes a prestigious Senior Residency at the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), New Delhi, and a stint at Sir H.N. Reliance Foundation Hospital in Mumbai. She completed her DNB in Radiation Oncology from Jaipur and earned her advanced DM in Medical Oncology from M.S. Ramaiah Medical College, Bengaluru. Her core expertise lies in administering precision systemic therapies, including advanced immunotherapy, targeted therapy, and complex chemotherapy regimens. Dr. Pathak is highly skilled in managing both solid organ tumors (such as breast, lung, and gastrointestinal cancers) and aggressive blood-related (hemato-lymphoid) malignancies, seamlessly balancing curative treatments with holistic palliative care. A respected voice in the medical community, she holds professional life memberships in leading global oncology bodies, including the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) and the European Society for Medical Oncology (ESMO).
